DID YOU KNOW?

For a romantic night, you can take a ride through town in a horse drawn carriage. Known as Chattanooga Horse Trams, the service has been providing horse drawn carriage tours of downtown since 1992.

THE FLYING SQUIRREL

CHATTANOOGA IS KNOWN FOR ITS WORLD-CLASS ATTRACTIONS AND ITS BREATHTAKING OUTDOORS.

But when the sun goes down on the Scenic City, the streets come alive with live music, vivacious locals, and curious tourists looking for a fun night on the town.

COCKTAIL BARS/RESTAURANTS From neighborhood dives to swanky urban lounges, Chattanooga has plenty of places to gather with friends over a well-crafted cocktail. Each with its own niche, every location brings its unique flare and expertise. A locally made whiskey distillery and tasting room, a red curtain-clad vintage cocktail bar, and an oyster bar specializing in artisanal, hand-cut ice are just a few of the one-of-a-kind options our city has to offer.

BREWERIES Chattanooga has some of the top breweries in the state. Beer connoisseurs shouldn't miss these local brew joints, which all have something unique to offer. The brewery landscape consists of a Great American Beer Competition winning pub, a resurrected brewing company that began in the 1890s, and several other passionate and talented local craft breweries. Plus, for those who have an affinity for craft beer, whether it's local, regional, national, or international, a tasting room on Chattanooga's North-Shore has it all!

PUBS AND BARS Whether you're yelling for your favorite team or splitting pitchers with your pals, you'll feel right at home at the pubs and bars in Chattanooga. Watering holes and relaxed local joints cater to everyone, from the after-work crowd to the rowdy sports fan. Some pubs and bars around town offer live musical entertainment or karaoke. Games like pool, darts, and trivia keep patrons on their toes, while hearty food menus offer the perfect pairings to enjoy alongside your pint.

MUSIC VENUES Chattanooga's music scene is on the rise. Between Nashville and Atlanta, some of the world's top performers travel to the Scenic City. Boasting two music venues, the iconic Chattanooga Choo Choo hosts world-renowned artists and bands at its venue, Track 29. A second, brand-new venue at the Choo Choo, Revelry Room, allows music lovers to get an up-close view of their favorite band in a smaller, more intimate setting. Chattanooga landmarks, the Tivoli Theatre and the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Auditorium, host concerts, plays, ballets, and more, all in a beautiful, timeless setting. Other small venues and bars host live performances, and multiple outdoor concerts happen every weekend during the summer months.

YEARLY EVENTS From ringing in the New Year in style to feeling festive all summer long, there's an event for every season in the Scenic City. Many hotels and attractions offer glamorous New Year's Eve parties. All seasons see specially themed occasions at several of Chattanooga's event venues, which range from vast rooftop spaces with sweeping views to warm, rustic places to host parties. Black tie events and more casual gatherings are a common occurrence in Chattanooga. Many such events are ticketed, with proceeds benefiting charity.

DINING AND COUNTRY CLUBS Members of Chattanooga's various golf and country clubs enjoy fine dining, special events, and social activities. Founded in 1896, the Chattanooga Golf and Country Club is Tennessee's oldest course on its original site. Close behind and nearly a century old are Lookout Mountain Golf and Country Club and Signal Mountain Golf & Country Club. Several newer golf and country clubs are enjoyed throughout the area.

SOCIAL CLUBS Various social clubs offer upscale atmospheres for dining, business gatherings, and grand events. The Walden Club is a private club offering fine dining and a sky-high view of Chattanooga. The Mountain City Club, also located downtown, has been in existence for more than 120 years. Lookout Mountain's Fairyland Club, nestled on the side of the mountain and situated in an English Tudor clubhouse, offers sport and fitness amenities along with fine dining.
